“Our community presence sets us apart from other accounting firms.”

I joined Johanson & Yau in 2012 after completing a tax internship with the firm. My internship provided me with a meaningful introduction to tax services – an important skill set that is expected of any accountant. While my tax knowledge continues to expand, my primary focus is assurance services, including financial statement audits, reviews and compilations. I appreciate the opportunity to collaborate with clients in diverse industries, specializing in the construction and real estate sectors.

A lifelong resident of San Jose, I value all of the diverse communities and organizations that represent our city. When I am away from work, I enjoy boxing, travel and time with family.
